

[What do I know about feelings]

What do I know about feelings / outside my own? / except that they move quickly / burn the skin / encourage flickering / and make most decisions / including ones about genre / and ones about song titles / and how to tell dogs apart / and what counts as experience / and what qualifies as / boring / Decisions about calories / decisions about planets / even decisions about nonverbal communication / If I ever write a song / it will be mostly turning / with very little description / It will start from the inside and work its way out / and back again / That's how you'll know the bridge / from the chorus / my singing / from my hate / By noticing which parts float / and which parts come / right back
